

Message from Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science
King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok

On behalf of the Faculty of Applied Science, King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok, we are honoured to co-host the 1st Engineering Physics Conference (EPC2014) together with Burapha University and Kasetsart University on July 25th, 2014 at King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok.

This year EPC2014 aims to initiate great collaborations among national and international physicists, engineers, technologists as well as those who wish to participate in physics communities. The conference also serves as a vehicle that will contribute to the richness of research and development in physics and other related fields. On this auspicious occasion, the event provides an inspiring experience to become a part of the ASEAN community 2015.

I wish every success to EPC 2014. Let us the benefit from this remarkable event at EPC 2014

Associate Professor Dr. Surin Laosooksathit

Dean, Faculty of Applied Science

Message from General Chair EPC2014,
King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok

We realize that physics plays as an essential role in fundamental science. Physics has strongly integrated in our society. For our deep appreciation, it is our utmost pleasure to co-host the 1st Engineering Physics Conference (EPC2014) together with Burapha University and Kasetsart University on July 25th, 2014 at King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok.

This year, EPC2014 is organized to promote the rise of collaboration among physicists, scientists, engineers and industrial sector representatives. This event offers an excellent opportunity to exchange information and experiences to enhance research and development in the aspect of engineering physics.

We would like to thank all support given that makes possible this memorable event, including the keynote speakers, chair and co-chair persons of meeting sections, all attendees, and our dedicated staffs.

I wish the successful event and hope EPC2014 will benefit to all of you.

Associate Professor Dr. Surapan Yimman

General Chair, EPC2014
